Want a job? Try Health Care!
“Despite recession, there continues to be a deep need for health care workers.” — www.cnn.com, 3/18/09 learn more! earn more! enjoy life!

Adams State College and Pueblo Community College are partnering to offer a new bachelor’s degree program in Health Care Administration on the PCC campus.

- Earn a Bachelor’s Degree in Health Care Administration from Adams State College without leaving the Pueblo area.
- Individuals with two or four-year business degrees can quickly complete this degree.
- Gain valuable experience in health care through local internship opportunities.
- Learn from experienced faculty who teach a contemporary health care leadership and management curriculum.
- Enhance your résumé with an academic certificate (Leadership and Administration).

30–40% of all new jobs created over the next 25 years will be in health care. — BusinessWeek, September '06
