Import Options, Account Settings, Addressbook and other data from:

- Don't import anything

If you have other email clients configured on your computer, Thunderbird will offer to import the account settings for you. Select the client that you previously used, and click on "Next".
In order to receive messages, you first need to set up a Mail or Newsgroup account.

This Wizard will collect the information necessary to set up a Mail or Newsgroup account. If you do not know the information requested, please contact your System Administrator or Internet Service Provider.

Select the type of account you would like to set up:

- Email account
- RSS News & Blogs
- Newsgroup account

Before you can use Thunderbird to read email, you will need to configure your email account settings. Click on "Next".
Each account has an identity, which is the information that identifies you to others when they receive your messages.

Enter the name you would like to appear in the "From" field of your outgoing messages (for example, "John Smith").

Your Name: John Doe

Enter your email address. This is the address others will use to send email to you (for example, "user@example.net").

Email Address: johndoe@adams.edu

Fill in your name with what you’d like your messages to be addressed with, including any titles. Also enter your email address and then click on "Next".
Account Wizard

Server Information

Select the type of incoming server you are using.

- POP
- IMAP

Enter the name of your incoming server (for example, "mail.example.net").

Incoming Server: [field]

Uncheck this checkbox to store mail for this account in its own directory. That will make this account appear as a top-level account. Otherwise, it will be part of the Local Folders Global Inbox account.

- Use Global Inbox (store mail in Local Folders)

Enter the name of your outgoing server (SMTP) (for example, "smtp.example.net").

Outgoing Server: [field]

Change the incoming server type from POP to IMAP.
Account Wizard

Server Information

Select the type of incoming server you are using.
- POP
- IMAP

Enter the name of your incoming server (for example, "mail.example.net").

Incoming Server: faculty.adams.edu

Enter the name of your outgoing server (SMTP) (for example, "smtp.example.net").

Outgoing Server: mail.adams.edu

Enter "faculty.adams.edu" for the Incoming Server and "mail.adams.edu" for the Outgoing Server. Click on "Next".
Account Wizard

User Names

Enter the incoming user name given to you by your email provider (for example, "jsmith").

Incoming User Name: johndoe

Enter the outgoing user name given to you by your email provider (this is typically the same as your incoming user name).

Outgoing User Name: johndoe

These fields should list your normal ASC account username. Click on "Next".
Account Wizard

Account Name

Enter the name by which you would like to refer to this account (for example, "Work Account", "Home Account" or "News Account").

Account Name: johndoe@adams.edu

Thunderbird can access multiple email accounts. This "Account Name" lets you differentiate which account you are currently using. Click on "Next".
Congratulations!

Please verify that the information below is correct.

Account Name: johndoe@adams.edu
Email Address: johndoe@adams.edu
Incoming User Name: johndoe
Incoming Server Name: faculty.adams.edu
Incoming Server Type: IMAP
Outgoing User Name: johndoe
Outgoing Server Name (SMTP): mail.adams.edu

Click Finish to save these settings and exit the Account Wizard.

Thunderbird allows you to review your account settings. If you made a mistake, click on "Back" to fix it. Otherwise, click on "Finish".
