Vacancy Announcement

Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position # FA9020

Starting Date:
August 18, 2012

Position Description
Undergraduate Sociology program seeks a broadly trained sociologist with a commitment to excellence in teaching. Special consideration will be given to candidates who demonstrate teaching experience/interest in criminology, corrections, juvenile delinquency, social deviance, and race, class & ethnicity. Departmental duties include student advising, internship supervision, scholarship and service to campus and community. The teaching load is four courses per semester (12 hours).

Qualifications
Ph.D in Sociology at time of appointment (advanced ABDs considered) and successful college-level teaching experience are preferred. Evidence of teaching effectiveness and the ability to work at a small, rural, Hispanic-Serving institution with a significant population of first generation college students are desired. The ability to perform the above position description is required.

Rank/Salary
Appointment will be made at the Assistant Professor level. The position is a full-time, tenure track position. The salary range is $42,000-$45,000.

Applications
Completed applications must include the following:
• Letter of application addressing the candidate’s interest in and qualifications for the position.
• Curriculum vitae and graduate transcripts (copies accepted).
• Any available evidence of teaching effectiveness including examples of course syllabi and teaching evaluations.
• Names, addresses (including email) and telephone numbers of four references who can address the candidate’s qualifications for the position.

Applications should be sent to:
Sociology Search Committee
Department of Sociology
Suite 3100
Adams State College
Alamosa, CO 81101

Electronic submissions can be sent to: etilton@adams.edu

Review of completed applications will begin March 30, 2012. Applications received or completed after that date may not receive full consideration.

An Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer

Adams State College is particularly interested in applications from women and minorities.

In compliance with the Immigration Control Act of 1986, candidates for positions must provide proof of eligibility to work before an offer of employment can be made final.

Full descriptions of all positions are available from the contact person listed. Adams State College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Applications are sought from all qualified persons regardless of race, color, sex, disability and, as covered by law, veteran status. In addition, college policies prohibit discrimination on the basis of religion, national origin, ancestry, age, sexual orientation, marital status, and parental status.